Bucyrus Picket Evaders on Job

Continue Work for Third Day After Another Night on Makeshift Beds.

By The Associated Press

BUCYRUS, O., March 22—Independent unionists continued at their job at the struck Crawford Steel foundry for the third day today after another uncomfortable night of sleep on makeshift beds.

The number of workers defying the CIO-United Steelworkers strike by "living" in the plant remained in dispute. The company claimed 117 of its 190 employes were at their jobs while the union conceded only "20 or 25."

About 15 more men reported for work Thursday, a company spokesman said, in addition to those who came in during the evening hours and remained all night with the original 85 who Wednesday morning entered the plant in the absence of pickets.

Those who left the plant and returned were reported to have done so without molestation on the part of the dozen or so pickets still stationed at the main entrance.

One worker who evaded the now small picket line declared:

POLICE RUSHED TO PITTSBURGH STRIKE SCENE

Governor Mobilizes State's Troopers To Protect W.E. Men After Flareup.

By The Associated Press

Governor Edward Martin of Pennsylvania today ordered state police into Pittsburgh to protect supervisory workers seeking to pass CIO picket lines around the strikebound Westinghouse Electric Corp. plant.

The mobilization of state troopers came after yesterday's brief flareup at the company's East Pittsburgh plant when milling, jostling pickets halted at least three supervisors from going to work. Sheriff's deputies broke up the fist-swinging melee.

As the state police moved in, the 16,000 striking production workers, among the 75,000 CIO electrical workers participating in a nationwide strike against the company, were summoned by union leaders to a mass meeting on the steps of Pittsburgh's city hall. They were to vote on a company wage proposal, said by a Westinghouse spokesman to amount to a 18½ cents hourly pay boost. Union leaders, however, said the hike amounted to about 8.7 cents an hour.

Sheriff Asks Help

Governor Martin said he ordered the state police into Pittsburgh upon request for aid from Sheriff Walter C. Monaghan of Allegheny county. An anti-mass picketing injunction against the striking union had been issued by Common Pleas Judge Walter P. Smart and he instructed the sheriff to let workers enter the plant without hindrance.

"The orders and decrees of our courts must be respected," Governor Martin said.

The company said about 700 supervisory employes had been instructed to report yesterday, but no one was reported to have passed the picket lines.

The 75,000 CIO electrical workers have been on strike since last Jan. 15. Numerous wage conferences have failed to settle the dispute.

The port of Philadelphia was threatened with a complete tie-up today as striking AFL tugboat workers planned to set up picket lines on every wharf and pier along the waterfront.

Companies Walk Out

William E. Collier, field representative for the Harbor Workers union affiliated with District 50 AFL-United Mine Workers, said the picketing decision was reached when spokesmen for the seven strikebound tug companies walked out of a conciliation meeting yesterday. The strike by the 160 unlicensed tug workers stemmed from a dispute over a new contract.

Backs UNO Plan; Blames War Fear on Propagandists

By The Associated Press

LONDON, March 22—Prime Minister Stalin told the Associated Press today "I am convinced that neither the nations nor their armies are striving for a new war," the Moscow radio said.

"They want peace," Stalin said in the interview as broadcast from Moscow, "and are striving for a guarantee of peace."

Blames Certain Groups

"That means," Stalin said, "that the present fear of war is caused not from that quarter. I think that the present fear of war is caused by the activities of certain political groups who occupy themselves with propaganda for a new war and who are thereby sowing the seeds of discord and lack of confidence."

Moscow said AP Correspondent Eddy Gilmore asked Stalin what significance he attributed to the United Nations as a means of preserving international peace, and Stalin replied:

"I attribute great significance to the United Nations Organization since it is a serious instrument for the preservation of peace and international security.

"The strength of this international organization consists in the fact that it is based on the principle of the equality of the rights of states and not on the principles of domination of some states over others.

"If the United Nations Organization succeeds in continuing to preserve the principle of equal rights, it will undoubtedly play a great, positive role in the cause of guaranteeing universal peace and security."

Stalin then was asked:

"What should the governments of the freedom loving countries now do for the preservation of peace and order in the whole world?"

"It is necessary that the public and the ruling circles of the powers organize a wide counter propaganda against the propagandists of a new war and for the insuring of peace so that not a single act of the propagandists of a new war should remain without due rebuff on the part of the public and press, so that the incendiaries of war may thus be exposed in good time and may have no chance of misusing freedom of speech against the interests of peace."

No Change To Fast Time Here

Indications are that Marion will remain on Eastern Standard time during the summer.

Mayor Harry L. Dowler said today the city was not contemplating a time change beginning April 28, the date when some Ohio cities will move their clocks ahead one hour to daylight saving time.

County commissioners report they have no intentions of shifting to a new time schedule either. Most farmers in Marion county are opposed to daylight saving time, they said, and therefore they do not favor a change.

Daylight saving time is effective from April 28 until Sept. 28.

OPA Ruling Allows Eating Places To Serve Less Bread

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 22—The nation's restaurants and hotels can serve less bread and salad dressing than usual without trimming prices—if customers raise no objections.

OPA authorized this today to help put into effect recommendations of the President's famine emergency committee that Americans cut down on these products so that more wheat and edible oils can be sent abroad.

Meanwhile, the government tried to solve a domestic food problem. The Office of Economic Stabilization, in an attempt to check what one official termed "a pretty serious black market in meat," ordered subsidy payments automatically reduced or in some cases forfeited when packers pay above ceiling prices for cattle.

OPA said eating places, including railroad dining cars, can reduce portions of wheat and oil products so long as they display a notice that this is being done, and provided they offer "to supply the normal portion to any customer who specifically requests it."

The restaurant order was the second issued by OPA in line with the famine committee's recommendations. Last week the agency authorized a reduction up to 10 per cent in the weight of bread loaves and bakery products, without a corresponding price cut.

The move against meat black markets was prompted, an OPA official said, "by the difficulties many packers have been encountering in trying to buy cattle at legal prices."

U. S. RATIONING MOVE PUSHED

21 Powerful Groups Seek UNRRA Action To Gain Food for Starving.

By The Associated Press

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 22—Politically powerful national organizations gathered today behind a drive to force the United States to ration cereals, fats and oils "which are desperately needed elsewhere."

Simultaneously they called for care of political refugees "without requiring the consent of their governments," and urged immediate creation of a new international organization to care for them until they can find new homes.

A total of 21 organizations signed the statement—among them the National Grange, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Community Service Committee of the CIO and the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

In their statement, observers for the organizations—here at the invitation of the state department for the UNRRA council meeting—declared President Truman's emergency famine program was "insufficient to cope with the immediate threat of widespread famine and inadequate to fulfill America's moral obligation and responsibilities as a world leader. * * *"

The organizations' demand came less than 48 hours after Director General Herbert Lehman appealed to the 47 member nations of UNRRA for return to stringent wartime food control—including rationing of commodities in short supply.

Fiorello La Guardia, former New York mayor was nominated yesterday by the central committee, which directs UNRRA policy, to succeed Lehman who is retiring.

REACTION SPLIT ON DRAFT PLEA

General Feeling Noted for Extension, After Leaders Cite World Crises.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 22 — Testimony that America's position in the troubled world demands a peacetime draft produced mixed reaction today among lawmakers who heard the admonition from cabinet and top Army officers.

Members of both senate and house military committees appeared to share a general feeling that Selective Service should be kept alive beyond its May 15 expiration date.

Summary of Testimony

The two committees returned to the subject after long testimony—some of it in secret session—yesterday by:

1. Secretary of State Byrnes, who was reported by members to have told the senate committee that those charged with responsibility for the nation's security are alarmed lest there not be enough new soldiers and sailors to replace those now entitled to come home.

2. Secretary of the Navy Forrestal, quoted as telling the senators that the Navy could not hope to get the men it still needs if Selective Service dies.

3. Secretary of War Patterson, who asked both the house and senate committees to recommend a one-year extension.

4. General of the Army Dwight Eisenhower, who told the house group that the world situation is such that the draft should be extended, not for a year but indefinitely.

5. Gen. Carl Spaatz, chief of the Army Air Forces, who was said to have warned the senate group that "the possibilities of atomic warfare further accentuate the need for the maintenance of adequate air forces in being."

Sees Draft Need

Summing up the testimony after the closed senate committee session, Acting Chairman Austin (R-Vt) gravely told reporters it was to this effect:

"That the international situation is such as to make more clear the necessity of extending the Selective Service act."

Trainmen Help Crippled Girl

Fast Flyer Halts at Home To Carry Railroaders' Mascot to Shrine Hospital.

By The Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, March 22—Minnie Rose Webb, 14-year-old crippled girl of Rialto, Tenn., arrived here today aboard the Illinois Central's Chickasaw Limited and was removed to the Shriners' hospital for crippled children to receive treatment for her three-year-old affliction.

A crowd of about 500 persons greeted the arrival of the little girl, including William H. Woodfield Jr. of San Francisco, imperial potentate of the Shrine of North America, and George F. Morrison, St. Louis potentate and treasurer of the hospital.

The train made a special stop at Rialto last midnight to permit Minnie Rose and her wheel chair to be put aboard.

Plenty of Company

A crowd of Shriners, newsmen and photographers furnished the brown-haired, thin-faced girl plenty of company as she waited by the lonely road for the passenger train.

Fatigued by a day of excitement that included hurried preparations, picture-taking and radio broadcasts, Minnie Rose was nodding in her wheel chair when she was lifted to the platform and rolled to the special flower-bedecked drawing room that had been arranged for her.

She waved good-bye to her tearful family as the train pulled out after a nine-minute delay.

The trip to St. Louis for medical treatment was the climax to a story book tale that had its beginning almost a year ago.

Minnie Rose sat on the front porch of her ramshackle farm home waving at all the trains that went by. A conductor stopped his train in front of her house one day and got acquainted. He found out that she was crippled.

Railroad's Mascot

The word was passed down the I. C. line. She became the railroad's mascot and seldom a day went past that some of the crewmen didn't throw her dolls, candy or toys. They even bought her the wheelchair.

Then the railroad men and Shriners decided to send the girl to St. Louis for treatment. Arrangements were made for last night's midnight rendezvous with the Chickasaw limited.

Mine Owners Seek Compromise Plans

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Bituminous coal operators moved today to compromise some of John L. Lewis's most controversial demands in time to avert a miners' strike April 1.

Chief among these was the United Mine Workers' request for a health and welfare fund to provide improved care for injured miners and families of those killed.

The operators, intent on presenting a solid front on some of the key issues which Lewis has advanced in the national soft coal wage contract negotiations, held sessions which went late last night and into the early morning hours today. A proposed compromise on one UMW demand was reported discussed.

PITTSBURGH IS HIT BY FIRE

14 Hurt, $700,000 Damage in City's Worst Blaze in 30 Years.

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, March 22—Fire swept with explosive fury through a three-block area in downtown Pittsburgh early today, destroying a dozen food and supply buildings and doing damage estimated at between $500,000 and $700,000.

Fourteen firemen were hurt by falling debris and toppling walls and 40 freight carloads of butter, lard, sugar, paint, coal and other products were burned.

The fire was described by firemen as the worst the city has experienced in 30 years.

Flames were controlled at 3 a. m., but 22 lines of hose still spurted millions of gallons of water into the buildings to quench smouldering flames.

The fire leaped from building to building in the three block area from First to Fourth avenue, in the lower tip of the golden triangle.

A system of inter-locking trestles on the Pittsburgh and West Virginia railway, two and three-story supply buildings and one-story distributing houses were fire swept.

Thousands gathered during the night watch. The fire lighted the "point" area where the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers converge. Flames shot 100 feet into the air and threatened for a time the eight-story Wabash building.

Lady with 9 Pairs of Nylons Baffles Leg-Conscious Solon

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 22—Here he is! The red-haired congressman with your nylons at heart.

He's Rep. Gordon Canfield, New Jersey Republican, and he's upset.

Proclaimed Rep. Canfield in a press release:

"The plight of stockingless women is real and the fair sex of this atomic age who yearn for more yarn, be it nylon, silk, rayon or cotton, are aroused."

If you're from Missouri and want to be shown, Rep. Canfield has 1,000 letters from stocking-conscious constituents.

Canfield took his 1,000 problems to the Civilian Production Administration. He said he "reckoned he was just getting somewhere" when in came the complaint that went right up on top of the stack.

The Crowning Blow

The feminine plaintiff sputtered angrily. She had stood in line a total of 25 hours in a few weeks, come out with nine pairs of nylons—and can't wear any of them.

"All are six inches short," she wrote her congressman. "It is impossible for a woman of average height to get justice."

This, decided Canfield, was beyond mere man. He called for help from the distaff side of the house. These were his answers:

Rep. Edith Norse Rogers (R-Mass) reported sympathetically she had been able to get two pairs of nylons which had "disintegrated in no time."

Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas (D-Calif) replied she, too, had "suffered" on the stocking front but had more important things on her mind.

Rep. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Me) was terse. No woman with nine pairs of nylons, she told Canfield, should complain.

Rep. Frances Bolton (R-Ohio) had a concrete idea. Why, she suggested, didn't Canfield set up a stocking exchange where the long and short of the nylon quandary could get together.

CPA Adds Word

The textile division of the Civilian Production Administration offered a plaintive postscript on the entire unhappy situation.

It said if some women weren't hoarders or hysterical buyers, there'd be enough hosiery for everyone, provided the distaff side rationed themselves to a pair of nylons every two months, or a pair of rayons every three months.

But, lady, despite all Rep. Canfield and the CPA say, it looks as though your nylon worries are far from over.

Stalin's Peaceful Statements Are Hailed with Hope in U. S.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 22 — Generalissimo Stalin's statements on preservation of the peace in an interview with AP Correspondent Eddy Gilmore at Moscow were generally hailed with hope by members of congress today.

Senator Morse (R-Ore) said that in view of what Stalin had to say to Gilmore about the role of UNO in international security, Russia now should not have "any objection to submitting all pending issues which are creating misunderstanding among members to the United Nations Organization."

Connally Pleased

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the senate foreign relations committee asserted:

"I am highly gratified at the statement of Prime Minister Stalin.

"The views expressed are in entire harmony with the purposes of the United Nations Organization.

"I am glad to note that he renounces any militaristic ambitions. The UNO is our best hope for peace, and if the Soviet Union will support it and cooperate with other peace-loving nations we may hope for a long period of peace and international concord."

Said Chairman Bloom (D-NY), house foreign affairs committee: "Stalin's words are reassuring. We'll never have war if Russia and all the nations follow the advice given. We all ought to hold special services and pray that Generalissimo Stalin will always remember and heed the answers he gave Mr. Gilmore."

House Republican Leader Joseph Martin of Massachusetts expressed the view that the international situation is "too delicate" for hasty comment on major issues, and reserve a statement.

Chairman Walsh (D-Mass) of the senate naval committee said Stalin's statement that nations are not striving toward war "should put an end of all rumors of war in the immediate future."

"The statement will be hailed with acclaim and approval by the people of the United States," Walsh said.

Most Hopeful Sign

Senator Reed (R-Kan) commented that, on its face, Stalin's interview with Gilmore "is the most hopeful sign that we have had recently."

House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) said today that Premier Stalin's newly-expressed views on war and peace constituted "a powerful statement" and provided "an indication that Stalin is willing to work with the rest of the world for peace."

Rayburn was among the first high government officials here to comment on the Soviet leader's statements made in an interview with Eddy Gilmore, Associated Press correspondent in Moscow, on the preservation of international security.

"Instead of being consumed by the fear of war and instead of talking about war, we should start talking about peace, and that seems to be what Stalin believes we all should do," Rayburn said.

The correspondent of The Associated Press, Mr. Gilmore, asked Prime Minister Stalin the following questions connected with the international situation. Below we give Mr. Gilmore's questions and Stalin's replies.

Answer: I attribute great significance to the United Nations Organization, since it is a serious instrument for the preservation of peace and international security. The strength of this international organization consists in the fact that it is based on the principle of the equality of right of states and not on the principles of the domination of some states over others.

If the United Nations Organization succeeds in continuing to preserve the principle of equal rights, it will undoubtedly play a great positive role in the cause of guaranteeing universal peace and security.

CHARGES DELAYED IN ASSAULT ON CHILD

By The Associated Press

JOLIET, Ill., March 22—Prosecutor James E. Burke today delayed serving a warrant charging assault with intent to kill against James F. Lincoln Jr., 30, in the hammer beating and shooting of a nine-year-old farm girl, pending outcome of the child's condition.

Lincoln, father of two small children and son of a wealthy Cleveland industrialist, remained in the Will county jail without a formal charge being filed. Burke, who said the salesman son of the Cleveland manufacturer had admitted beating the Williams girl with a hammer and shooting her several times Wednesday after she resisted his advances, asserted he would oppose Lincoln's release on bond.

At the Silver Cross hospital, the physician attending the Williams girl, who suffered a fractured skull by hammer blows and was shot six times as she fled from Lincoln's car, said it would be at least a week before he would give any prediction of her recovery.

A preliminary examination, the physician said, indicated the child had been shot six times, five bullets passing through her hips and shoulders and one remaining in her abdomen. He reported her condition as "critical."

Mrs. George Williams has not left her daughter's bedside at the hospital since she took her there Wednesday after the child fled from Lincoln's car a half mile from her farm home.

The elder Lincoln, president of the Lincoln Co. of Cleveland, accompanied by Attorney Lloyd Heth of Chicago met his son yesterday in the state's attorney's office. Later he said he was ready to fight the charge "all the way." He said his son's skull was fractured in an automobile accident 10 years ago and "there is not the slightest doubt that this event is directly traceable to that injury."

Young Lincoln, Chicago sales representative for his father's firm, is the father of a daughter Lucy, 5, and a son, Jeff, 3. His wife, Laura, an expectant mother, described Lincoln as a "wonderful husband and father," and asserted she would "stick by" him.

Pepper Gets Hot at Red Baiters

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 22—Senator Pepper (D-Fla) said today those who cry "Communist" at the sound of a kind word for Russia are blocking the most direct road toward an enduring peace.

The Florida senator told reporters he regards as part of "the current pattern of attack" assertions made by Senator Ball (R-Minn) in opposing Pepper's suggestion that this country destroy its atom bombs and go into a Big Three meeting with "clean hands."

Senator Sees Red

Ball said in a senate speech yesterday that the American Communist party is "beating the drums" against an atomic control bill amendment which he described as "a minimum safeguard to national security" but which Pepper had criticized in his foreign policy address on Tuesday.

"I suspected that would be the first form of attack," Pepper said today. "You can be anti-Russian and be a good American but if you have a kind word to say for Russia you are called a communist."

Asserting that his proposals "came from my own heart," Pepper added that he considers it "neither fair nor good judgment" to proceed on the premise that no agreement can be reached with Russia.

"Only by a reconciliation of opinion between the United States, Great Britain and Russia can we obtain lasting peace," he said.

Ball told his colleagues that destruction of this nation's atomic bombs and the plants in which they are made—as suggested by Pepper—would commit the United States to a policy of appeasement because of its resulting impotence.

Points to Power

"Russia still has an estimated 10,000,000 men under arms, and her armies are occupying Iran in violation of a treaty and threatening Turkey," the Minnesotan said. "No one knows what secret weapons Russia has developed or is producing behind her iron curtain of isolation. * * *"

Ball said that Communists had raised the cry of "Fascism" against the atomic control bill amendment sponsored by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) to set up a military board which could appeal civilian commission decisions it felt infringed on national security.

Chairman McMahon (D-Conn) of the senate's special atomic committee has asserted that the amendment "means that the Army will run things."

BANKER SCOFFS AT VARDAMAN ABILITIES

(More about Mr. Vardaman on page 9)

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 22—Hord Hardin, St. Louis banker, said today he considered Commodore James K. Vardaman Jr., utterly lacking in the balanced judgment that any member of the federal reserve board should possess."

Hardin, executive vice president of the Mississippi Valley Trust Co., gave this opinion to a senate banking subcommittee at hearings on the nomination of President Truman's naval aide to the banking board.

Hardin was one of three St. Louis bankers summoned by Senator Donnell (R-Mo), an opponent of the appointment, to testify on Vardaman's qualifications.

Under questions of Chairman Radcliffe (D-Md), Hardin said he had known Vardaman 20 years and was first favorably impressed with his work for the Reconstruction Finance Corp. in the St. Louis area.

Iran Joins U. S. in Bucking Russia

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 22—Iran, which has protested to the United Nations the presence of Russian troops on its oil-rich territory, formally aligned itself with the United States today in opposing a Soviet request that the meeting of the 11-nation security council be delayed 16 days.

Such postponement—which would set back the opening meeting from next Monday to April 10—would "inevitably result in increased harm to the interests of Iran," Hussein Ala, Iranian ambassador, said in a letter to Trygve Lie, UNO secretary general.

Follows Truman Views

The Iranian letter came several hours after President Truman declared the scheduled meeting of the security council would not be postponed and that the United States delegation would press for action.

Andrei A. Gromyko, Russian ambassador, replying to the President's statement, said security action now on the Iranian dispute would merely complicate it. Russia had requested postponement of the meting on the grounds that it needed more time to prepare its side of the case.

Unanimous agreement by the members of the security council is needed to postpone the meeting.

Hussein Ala's letter released here last night by UNO officials, said the Iranian government hoped that consideration of its case agninst the Soviet Union "will not be delayed."

Say Talks Failed

"At the conference in London decision was postponed upon the merits of the earlier dispute pending negotiation between the parties," the letter said and added:

"These negotiations have failed. Meanwhile, March 2, the date fixed by the tripartite treaty, has passed and the Soviet troops have not been withdrawn. The obligation of the Soviet government to withdraw its forces from Iran is not a proper subject for negotiation under the charter of the United Nations or the constitution of Iran.

"The delays thus far permitted have intensified the critical conditions in my country caused by the failure of the Soviet Union to withdraw these troops. The state of affairs is very grave and further delays would inevitably result in increased harm to the interests of Iran. * * *"

Since 1920, U. S. population has increased more than 15,000,000.

"BLUEBEARD" IN COURT WITH SUITCASES OF VICTIMS. With suitcases of the 27 persons the state charges he robbed and murdered on exhibit in the court-room, Dr. Marcel Petiot, extreme right, is shown as he answered questions during his trial in Paris. The French "Bluebeard," minus his beard, admitted that he helped "execute" one of the 27 persons. Previously he had maintained innocence but said that he had taken part in a "certain number" of the 63 "executions" which he said a so-called resistance group had carried out.

JURY SEES PETIOT'S MURDER MANSION

(Picture on Page 10)

By The Associated Press

PARIS, March 22—Squads of police using wooden barriers held off a huge mob from the Rue Le Sueur today as the court trying Dr. Marcel Petiot on 27 murder counts visited his forbidding, dilapidated mansion in the fashionable Bois De Boulogne area.

Magistrates, jurors and witnesses left the palace of justice in a long convoy of motor cars to continue testimony on the scene after hearing a police official describe the human remains he had found in the doctor's home two years ago.

Petiot bases his defense on assertions that he was a scourge of collaborators.

The magistrates, dressed in red robes, were followed by the handcuffed Petiot, attorneys and court attendants. They arrived at the sinister house in a drizzling rain.

They examined the small triangle room where, the prosecution claimed, the doctor watched the death agonies of his victims. Petiot denied this, saying the room was an unfinished X-ray chamber.

The court also inspected the garage which had a deep pit in it. A police reporter stated that the pit had been discovered full of quicklime and human remains.

Two Paris policemen, Chief Inspector Louis Poirier and Lucien Pineau, chief of the homicide squad, testified yesterday they could find no evidence to support Petiot's assertion that he belonged to a resistance group which "executed" traitors to France. The state has accused the 55-year-old physician of murdering persons who gave him money to help them escape from Nazi occupied France.

When the prosecution asserted that Petiot had refused to answer any question about the disappearance of three members of the Kneller family—Jewish refugees who disappeared in July, 1942, after they alledgely asked Petiot to smuggle them to the unoccupied zone of France—the defendant roared:

"It is untrue, like most of what you say. It has been said I have left 362 questions unanswered. These questions have never been asked. I do not know if it is the habit of the justice to use such manners."

HE MAY BE RIGHT

COLUMBUS, O., March 22—A southern educator declared today that the average citizen scarcely knew what was going on around him. Dr. J. E. Windrow, director of the Leabody demonstration school of Nashville, Tenn., urged a "social conscience" at the 32nd annual convention of the Midwest Physical Education association.

OHIO POLICE FIGHT STATE PENSION AID

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 22—Police officials from 15 north-central Ohio counties today urged the governor and the pension study commission not to furnish a state subsidy for police pensions.

Instead of a state subsidy the police officials recommended increasing the tax levy from three to a maximum of five-tenths of a mill, and the contributions of members from two to a maximum of five per cent to finance police pensions.

Detective Sergeant Vernon M. Smith of Lorain, spokesman for the group, told the governor and the commission that the granting of a state subsidy for the pensions would eventually lead to state control of such pension systems.

"We feel that police pensions are solely a matter of local concern and should be financed locally," Smith told Gov. Frank J. Lausche at a conference before attending a commission hearing.

Smith said all the pension funds in the 15 counties represented by his group needed no further financial aid. Representatives of most of the large city police departments have urged a state subsidy for their pension systems.

Appearing with Sergeant Smith as representatives of the anti-state subsidy group were officers E. D. Mitchell of Mansfield, I. J. Grathwol of Sandusky, and Paul Palmer of Elyria.

Counties they claimed to represent were Ottawa, Sandusky, Erie, Lorain, Seneca, Huron, Wyandot, Crawford, Richland, Ashland, Marion, Morrow, Knox, Delaware and Union.

The commission was presented with a 10-point pension program drafted by the Fraternal Order of Police of Ohio which claims to represent policemen in 127 municipalities.

One recommendation called for a life service pension of not less than $1,200.

Others proposed a retirement allowance for policement who became physically or mentally disqualified for their duties, and the granting of pensions to dependents of deceased policemen.

Another proposal would prevent revocation or curtailment of any pensions granted for life.

Matchmaking Makes Mayor Go To Phone

By The Associated Press

BURLINGTON, N. C.—The man in Maryland who wanted Mayor G. Marvin Holt of Burlington to help him find a wife can take his pick now from a dozen or more ambitious women in this section.

And the sooner the better—for the mayor wants to get out of the mail-order business in a hurry!

Since a newspaper story announced that a man in Hagerstown, Md., had called on Mayor Holt for help in locating a spouse, numerous women have written or called to say they are "available."

But Mayor Holt is tired having his office confused with a matrimonial agency.

"Finding a wife is personal business, and the next time someone from far away wants a wife from Burlington, the best thing for him to do is to come here and look around a few days," he says.

Meaty Menus Are Back in Manhattan

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK—You can eat much better in Manhattan restaurants now than in the war years, take it from President Paul Henkel of the Society of Restaurateurs. One place off Times Square a year ago was serving only two meat dishes. Now it offers a dozen.

One reason, says Henkel, is that with shortages not so severe, more people are eating at home. New York's 19,000 public eating places, which served 8,000,000 meals a day much of last year, now serve about 6,300,000 a day.

Rock-Throwing Boys Get Target Handicap

By The Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—School windows shattered by rock-throwing kids have cost Louisville taxpayers about $2,500 annually for years, but at last something is being done about it.

Maintenance men now install 12-section glass windows in replacing broken old-fashioned shashes containing a single expensive pane.

This doesn't stop rock-tossing, but it limits to about 50 cents the damage one rock can cause.

GOERING'S PRAISE OF HITLER IRKS JACKSON

By The Associated Press

NUERNBERG, March 22—Justice Robert H. Jackson, chief U. S prosecutor, intervened angrily to choke off Hermann Goering's praise of Adolf Hitler with a warning to the international military tribunal that the war crimes trial was liable to drag on into August.

Interrupting when the defendant again attempted to review "my relations with the fuehrer," Jackson declared: "This subject has been exhausted—the matter of time is grave." Jackson said it appeared probable the trial would extend into August.

A bitter scene developed as Gen. R. A. Rudenko, chief Soviet prosecutor, concluded his interrogation demanding to know if Goering would admit he "was the second man in the murder of millions of innocent people."

"No," shouted Goering, "because I didn't know about them or cause them. Millions of Germans did not know about them either."

Goering was vexed when Gen. Rudenko developed testimony refuting the alibi that Polish outrages against German citizens in Bromberg, Poland, prompted the invasion of Poland, by showing that the "bloody Sunday" clashes occurred in the town three days after Poland was attacked.

"I made a mistake about the date," Goering conceded.

Father, Son Banquet Held at Christian Church

A father and son banquet in Central Christian church dining room last night drew an attendance of 75, with 20 former servicemen guests of honor. Dinner was served by the Jesse Buckley class.

Rev. J. B. Holloway, pastor of Trinity Baptist church and a former Navy chaplain of World War II, spoke on "Fool's Gold." Rev. Eldred Johnston, Central church pastor, led group singing. Miss Shirley Geissler furnished piano music during the meal, and for the program Miss Joann Dixon sang two numbers accompanied by Mrs. Virgil Curl. Servicemen were asked to stand, each giving his name and his outfit, and the entire group stood for a minute of silent prayer in honor of three men who lost their lives in the war, Donald Maskill, Richard Vaughn and Forest Flockencier. Harold Patrick was toastmaster. An "Our Gang" comedy motion picture was shown by Elmer Weimer. Mrs. Glen Walraven was chairman of the committee on arrangements.

FIRE

summoned members of his bomb and arson squad to inspect the ruins in search for cause of the fire.

Several explosions occurred. Firemen attributed these to grease and to a number of mercury cells stored in one of the buildings. An emergency hospital for injured firemen was set up in St. Mary's Catholic church, near the scene.

Fire Chief William Davis estimated the damage at $500,000 but some business men whose property was lost said losses would approach $700,000.

HAVE YOU REGISTERED?

You Must If You Want To Vote on May 7.

Many of you returned veterans haven't realized that to be able to vote on May 7th you must register at the Board of Elections PRIOR to April 8th. Many wives will need to register, too.

The time and effort required to register and vote is small compared to the sacrifice and effort you sweat out to maintain that right as a citizen of good old "Uncle Sugar".

In your travels you've seen a lot of cities Some were good, some were bad. How does Marion stack up?

An important election will come up on May 7. The issue is to determine whether or not Marion needs more and better school buildings. You ought to have your say. That's why you ought to register NOW if you haven't already done so.

HERE'S WHO NEEDS TO REGISTER

1. Persons who have never voted in Marion or Marion School District before.
2. Persons who have reached the age of 21 years since they entered the Service.
3. Persons who have not voted within the past 2 years.
4. Women who have recently changed their name by marriage.
5. Persons who have moved from one voting precinct to another.

If you have any doubt call the board of election, Phone 2450, 134½ E. Center St., Marion, Ohio.

Many Marion citizens who have not been in the Service will need to register too. The above requirements apply to them as well.

With the deadline for registering set for April 8, the election board office on East Center Street will remain open continuously from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. starting Monday, March 25. On April 5, 6 and 8 the office will stay open until 9 P. M.

All you need to do is to go to the Board of Elections office and say you want to register. They'll be glad to do the rest. There's no charge.

Minister Likens Vets to Homeless Christ

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 22—Returning veterans seeking living quarters are being turned away just as Christ was rejected 2,000 years ago "when he sought a home in the hearts of man," Rev. Alexander S. Fleming of Steubenville, says.

In a special Lenten sermon last night, the pastor of the Second United Presbyterian church in Steubenville declared the "America he fought for has only one answer, 'No Room', for the veteran and his family.

"Long, long ago that cold, heartless and discouraging phrase was said to a man and his wife in a little village called Bethlehem. What happened there simply echoed the word of Isaiah: 'He was despised and rejected by men'."

The sermon was delivered at First United Presbyterian church, Cleveland Heights.

Weddings

Mrs. Harley Burggraf of 129 Charles street is announcing the marriage of her son, Everal, to Miss Dorothy Czyzniejewski, of Chicago in a double ring ceremony at 11:45 o'clock Saturday morning, March 2, in the church of Saint Casimir, Chicago. The ritual was performed by the Father Casperin Johara. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Josephine Czyzniejewski of 2249 South Troy street, Chicago.

The bride wore a gown of ivory satin fashioned in Colonial lines with a hoop skirt and long train. Mock orange blossoms moulded from wax held her veil and also trimmed her gown at the throat and neck-line where her gown was gathered above the hoop skirt. She carried a white prayer book with an orchid and ivory streamers of white sweetpeas. Her five attendants wore gowns of pastel shades of net and lace. They wore halos fashioned of net to match their gowns. They carried multi-colored corsages of spring flowers centered with yellow jonquils. The groom was attended by his brother-in-law, Frank A. Denison, of Findlay.

A wedding breakfast was held for the bridal party at Trumbull Hall following the ceremony. In the evening a reception with 200 guests was also held at Trumbull hall. Out-of-town guests were the bridegroom's mother and sister, Audrey of Marion, his niece, Miss Jeanne Roth, Mrs. Nelty Burdette and Mrs. Frank A. Denison of Findlay, sister of the groom.

The bride is employed by Goldblatt's, Inc. in Chicago and the groom, former MM2/C of the Navy, is employed as a machinist.

After a short wedding trip the couple are at home at 1531 North Fairfield street, Chicago.

Back To Grandma's Day

1946 Brides Want Rings Big and Beautiful.

EASTER BRIDE . . . Her gown is white lace, her choice of rings wide. Above is the 1946 "Bible ring" in palladium and gold. Below other new elaborate styles.

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Fashion Editor

Once more the wide wedding band of grandmother's day is back in the picture, and 1946 brides want their rings big and beautiful.

No more is the narrow circlet of diamonds standard equipment for the trip to the altar. Now both jewelry designers and American girls themselves are showing daring originality in designing their wedding rings. Many individually designed rings are being used, with increased use of palladium and yellow gold, sometimes in combination.

One socially prominent bride of the season chose a wedding ring that reaches the first knuckle of her ring finger. Another new and unusual design is the Bible ring, in which the central decorative motif of the ring is in the form of an open Bible carved of white palladium or platinum to contrast with the pink and yellow gold shank. On one page of the open Book are engraved the initials of the bride and groom, on the other the date of the wedding. Floral designs in diamonds and rubies are clustered at each side.

Other rings are intricately carved wide bands of various precious metals, sometimes combining two colors of gold with platinum or palladium and diamonds in one ring. One popular ring is wide in front, set with diamonds, the shank narrowing in back. Another is a two-tone band of yellow gold with a white palladium circle inset.

Jewelers remark a recent trend toward new wedding rings for the long-married. The original band is retained for sentiment, sometimes combined with a contrasting band on each side, to add importance and width.

Miss Thelma Munson Of LaRue Weds Byhalia Man

LA RUE—Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Munson of LaRue are announcing the marriage of their daughter Thelma to Carl Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hamilton of Byhalia. The ceremony was read by Rev. Corwin Bailey in Urbana, March 8 at 7:30 p. m., this date being the thirtieth wedding anniversary of the bride's parents. Attending the couple were Miss Lorna Sheridan of Cleveland and Tom Dunson of LaRue.

The bride wore a two-piece suit of light blue with black accessories and a corsage of white gardenias. Miss Sheridan chose a suit of grey with black accessories and corsage of white carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for the immediate families.

The newlyweds will reside on a farm south of Richwood.

FARM WOMEN MEET

The Claridon Progressive Farm Women's club met for a 1 o'clock luncheon Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Gail Van Gordon on the Edison road. Group singing opened the meeting and devotions were conducted by Mrs. Milo Brockelsby. Roll call was answered by giving "Friendship Quotations." During the social hour secret sisters were revealed and names were chosen for the coming year. Guests were Mrs. Verne Creasap and Mrs. Ella Bader.

Lunch will be served by Company M's mess staff under the direction of Lt. Howard Pogle, company mess officer. The event will start at 7:30 p. m.

A musical contest was held with Mrs. James Kerr at the piano. Members whose birthdays are in the first quarter of the year closed the program with a playlet. Four applications for membership were received. The next committee for the next meeting will be headed by Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Linn and James Kerr will serve as chairman for the social hour.

NAZI-RED PLOT FOR AFGHAN WAR BARED

By The Associated Press

NUERNBERG, GERMANY, March 22—A secret protest to Hitler from Alfred Rosenberg, which lay hidden in the files of the reichschancellery six years, said that the German foreign office negotiated with the Soviet Union in December of 1939 for a civil war in Afghanistan to overthrow the pro-English Afghan government.

The Rosenberg complaint, written as head of the Nazi party's foreign policy office, announced:

"It appears to be urgently necessary that action initiated by the foreign policy office be broken off immediately and the delegation recalled from Moscow, because if it became known that negotiations were in progress the Afghan government would find confirmation in this of rumors spread in Kabul by England about a German-Soviet thrust against British India through Afghanistan, and would be forced to draw the obvious conclusions."

Rosenberg addressed Hitler Dec. 12, 1939, when the Russian-German treaty of the previous August was feared by the Western Allies to have numerous unexplored possibilities.

Gadget To Let Winnie Dictate from His Bed

By The Associated Press

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 21—Winston Churchill, man of action, plans to dictate part of his memoirs while resting in bed.

The former British prime minister, who sailed for home yesterday aboard the Queen Mary, took with him two electronic recording sets equipped with a special lapel microphone to be used alternately at the bedside and while pacing up and down.

Workers at the Soundscriber Corp. plant here put in overtime to complete the equipment—including a loud buzzer to remind him to change discs in the event he was carried away by his words.

Churchill left a special recording for the workmen, thanking "those at the factory who gave up their week-end leisure to help get this finished in time," and ending with "this remarkable—for Churchill—sentence:

"This is me. Winston Churchill, speaking himself to you, and I am so glad to be able to thank you in this remarkable way."

Russian Grain to Ease Famine

French Tell UNRRA Their Purchases from Reds Will Relieve Shortage.

By The Associated Press

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 22—Pierre Schneiter, French undersecretary of state, told the UNRRA council yesterday that French purchase of wheat and barley from Russia would help relieve grain shortages elsewhere in the world.

He declared that France had notified the combined food board of the transaction, with a request for a corresponding reduction—500,000 tons—in the board's 2,500,000 allocation to the French for the first half of this year.

(The combined food board, upon which sit representatives of Canada, the United States and Britain) allocates supplies available in this country and Canada.

India warned that five to 15 millions of her population may die in coming months.

"We in India are faced with famine," Sir Girja Shanker Bajpai, agent general for India at Washington, told delegates from 47 nations to UNRRA's council here.

Says Limit Reached

Saying that India could tighten her belt no further—"you can't tighten a belt around a straight line," Bajpai declared the population there "almost equal to that of the United States, is limited to a daily allowance, per individual, of 960 calories.

"This is barely enough for existence."

He said India had no objection to Herbert Lehman's suggestion for enlarging the membership of the combined food board, which allocates food supplies available in Canada, the United States and the United Kingdom.

"But," he added, "if it is to be enlarged to include countries in deficit or agencies which speak for such countries, then we claim a seat for India."

Yugoslavia now is reduced to grain allotments which will permit only 1,500 calories a day, and that almost limited to bread, since Yugoslavia has no meat or cheese, Stano Krasovec told the council for his nation.

Gustavo Gutierrez of Cuba told the council that Cuba now has requests from 50 nations for its sugar crops, and that it is selling sugar to UNRRA at half price. His government, he said, has made up the difference through a subsidy of $8,000,000.

He accused U. S. sugar control machinery of what he termed a serious error in limiting Cuban production to 3,000,000 tons in 1941. He said production now was up to 5,000,000 tons.

Meanwhile a sharp cleavage developed among the five big powers over a Russian-Chinese backed effort to curtail the allocating powers of the combined food board.

Opposing the move were the United States and Britain, supported by Canada.

Cleveland Judge Gets Role of "Art" Critic

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 22—Municipal Judge Perry B. Jackson must decide whether the dance of Gale Parker and her puppet devil doll is something artistic, as in Faust, or lewd, as in the municipal code.

The 24-year-old entertainer, who has been presenting her "devil dance" at a local night club for 20 months, was arrested by the vice squad on a charge of taking part in a "lascivious performance."

"Why, the dance is accepted in the best circles," Miss Parker said. "It's right out of the opera Faust."

Judge Jackson released the dancer on $200 bond and continued the case to April 11.

$100 Jackson Dinners To Be Short Rations

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 22—Democrats at the $100-a-plate Jackson day dinner here Saturday are going to get the least food for their money that has ever been served "for the price in the United States."

That's what Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky) told the senate.

A speech by President Truman will be an extra added attraction for the diners here.

Y-Indus vs. McMillen Classic to Top Gold Medal Battles Tonight

Feed Boys' 22-Game String May End in Quarter-finals

Stars Who Played on Both Clubs Are Juggled for Clash; LaRue Takes on Green Camp.

By JIM DARBY

Independent basketball fans are anticipating a classic battle tonight when Y-Indus and McMillen clash in the quarter-finals of the Gold Medal tournament at the Y. M. C. A. The game, scheduled for 8:30 on the lower gym, is rated a toss-up by most sideline experts.

McMillen batted 1.000 this season winning all their 22 starts. Y-Indus played 36 games and walked off with 33 of them including five games in the March of Dimes independent tournament.

Play on Both Teams

These two never met during the regular season partly because some of the spark plugs of both teams were the same men. When it was seen early in the season that the schedules of the two teams would not conflict, several Y-Indus men agreed to play on the McMillen team.

Of the dual players Sheilnorn will be with McMillen, while Mulvaine and Roseberry will stay with Y-Indus. Dillion won't be in either lineup as he is with a Chicago Cub baseball training camp. McMillen has acquired the services of Lautie Power, Harding star, and "Chuck" Fazio, former Harding ace and currently captain of Ohio State university's leading fraternity basketball team.

Dark Horse Team

In the other game on the lower floor at 7:30 p. m., a powerful LaRue Merchants team tackles dark horse Green Camp Panthers who reached the quarter-finals stage without playing by virtue of a bye and a forfeit. They have played together but are composed of a group of ex-high school stars including Withrow and Rothfuss of this year's New Bloomington aggregation.

At 7:30 p. m. on the upper gym Universal Cooler and Italy Dairy of the Y. M. C. A. independent league will renew hostilities. Cooler took Italy's measure earlier in the season but lost the most recent encounter. Italy won 10 and lost five this year to finish second while Cooler wound up in fourth place with eight wins and six losses.

Morral Supply Co. with a record of 14 wins and three losses during the season tackles DeMolay Alumni at 8:30 on the upper gym. The Alumni are a group of ex-servicemen who were former Harding High players and once played together as a team in a junior Y. M. C. A. league.

Crowd Boos Lustily at Rough Mat Bout

With the crowd participating in a bit of rough stuff at the end of the bout, the team of Whitey Walburg and Young Sandow were declared winners of the tag team wrestling match last night at the armory, defeating the team of Ali Pasha and Monty LaDue. Pasha and LaDue won the first fall in 15 minutes, Walburg and Sandow won the second in nine minutes, then in the third fall Pasha and LaDue were disqualified because of choking. Sandow was carried out of the ring and the crowd expressed its displeasure emphatically.

Monty LaDue defeated Young Sandow in 14 minutes of one of the preliminaries with a toe hold while Walburg whiped Pasha in nine minutes with a rolling arm lock. Sammy DeLong of Marion defeated Tommy Rose of Marion with a body press in two minutes of the first bout.

Ohio Okays 18-Day Marion Race Meet

The state racing commission yesterday awarded the Little Grand Circuit at Marion 18 nights for harness racing between June 15 and July 5, The Associated Press reported from Columbus. There were 283 race dates of all types set.

The remainder of the harness racing schedule: Western Ohio Driving Club (Wapakoneta) (10 days)—May 30-June 10. Portage county independent fair (Ravenna) (four days)—Sept. 30 to Oct 3.

OSU-NORTH CAROLINA TO MEET IN FINALS

Bucks Beat Harvard 46-38 In NCAA Playoffs.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 22—New York university, once regarded as the outstanding basketball team in the country, has failed in its bid to retain its eastern NCAA basketball championship.

The Violets, pre-game favorites, took a 57 to 49 pasting from North Carolina in the semi-finals at Madison Square Garden last night. North Carolina thus demonstrated its early season 43-41 victory over the New Yorkers was no fluke.

North Carolina thus won the right to meet Ohio State, Big Ten champions, for the eastern crown on Saturday night. The Buckeyes, who lost to NYU in last year's eastern final, defeated Harvard, 40 to 36, in the other semi-final clash.

Harvard, previously beaten only by Holy Cross, tied the Buckeyes at 18-18 in the first 13 minutes, but then fell behind and never caught up. In the second half the Crimson pulled up to 40-34, but the Ohioans always held the upper hand.

State Cage Tourney Opens Tonight

Waynesburg, Middies Rated Mild Favorites

By HAROLD HARRISON
AP Sports Writer

More than four long months of bitterly fought rivalry reaches its climax tonight and tomorrow in Toledo and Springfield in what one wag chooses to call "The Cage Conniptions of 1946."

Two teams — one in Class "A" and one in Class "B"—are just two games away from Ohio's coveted high school basketball championship.

Burdened with the favorite's role in Class "A" are Middletown's Middies but when you get down to only four teams none can be given more than a hairline edge over any other. So East Liverpool, Akron North and Toledo Woodward are treading close on the coat tails of the high flying lads from Butler county who are making their third appearance in the state finals in as many years.

Tight Race Seen

In the Class "B" affair at Springfield the No. 1 choice probably is Waynesburg which, like Middletown, hasn't lost a game all season. But, off their season records, the Class "B" teams should be even more tightly matched than their big brothers at Toledo.

No team in the Class "B" finals has lost more than three games and there are only a total of six defeats for all four teams battling with Waynesburg will be Worthington, Farmer and Bradford.

Opening the fireworks at Toledo before a crowd that is a mortal cinch to be a standing room only mob of almost 8,000, will be East Liverpool (23-3) and Akron North (14-6). They'll be followed on the floor by Middletown (24-0) and Toledo Woodward (19-3). The winners will tangle in the championship game Saturday night.

At Springfield, the honors of opening the tournament will fall to Farmer (30-1) and Bradford (26-2). They will be followed by Waynesburg (26-0) against Worthington (24-3).

The Friday night losers will play a consolation game Saturday night followed by the championship tilt between the Friday night winners.

New "B" Champ

Regardless of which team wins at Springfield it will be be a new champion in every sense of the word. Northridge, the 1945 title holder, was eliminated by Bradford a week ago and none of the four finalists ever has taken the crown in all the years Ohio has been having state tournaments.

Two of the Class "A" finalists are former champions but last year's winners — Bellevue — was knocked off in its first tournament start.

PIRATES AND BROWNS BOAST TOP ROOKIES

Kiner and Dillinger Look Good — in Workouts.

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, March 22—The rookies that bloom in the spring, tra-la, oftimes wind up in Podunk come July. But the four major league clubs training in this citrus belt have quite a few newcomers who should become better known as time passes.

Prize rookies, from their showing to date, are Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh Pirates' outfielder, and Bob Dillinger, St. Louis Browns' third baseman. Both may become "rookie of the year" in their respective leagues.

Kiner, 23, lanky, loose-jointed free-swinger, has resembled a right-handed Ted Williams in batting .500 and clubbing a half-dozen homers in the Pirates' first dozen exhibitions. He covers center field with big, easy strides and pegs long strikes.

Dillinger, 25, is the best bespectacled player to come up in years, veteran observers agree. A slick fielder and a sharp, if not long hitter, Dillinger is considered a cinch to chase Mark Christman off third for the Browns. A 10-second sprinter in the 100-yard dash, Dillinger is tabbed as lead-off man.

Both are southern Californians and ex-servicemen. Kiner, ex-Navy, got as high as Toronto in 1943. Dillinger, star of the Army's Pacific circuit, was with Toledo in 1942.

Massillon and Sandusky are sending the largest delegations this week. Ten five-man teams and 26 doubles are entered from Massillon and three five-man and 23 doubles are coming from Sandusky.

Other communities represented thus week-end are Tiffin, Orrville, Carey, Lorain, New Lexington, Wooster, Shelby, Medina, Plymouth and Findlay.

Bowling will get underway at 1 p. m. Saturday with four doubles teams competing. From 7 p. m. on 24 five-man teams will bowl. Sunday beginning at 9 12 five-man teams will bowl and from 11 a. m. on 72 doubles teams will compete.

Second and final session of the Women's city tournament will be bowled at Marion Recreation lanes over the week-end. Saturday night two shifts of five teams each will bowl at 7 and 9:30. Doubles and singles will be run off Sunday, shifts bowling at 1, 3, and 5 p. m. In a schedule published in the Star last week, times of bowling were erroneously given at 3, 4, and 5. Groups listed as bowling at 3 and 4 will bowl at 1 and 3, respectively.

County Junior High Finals Due Tonight

Pleasant and Kirkpatrick will play in the finals of the Junior High basketball tournament tonight at New Bloomington at 8:30 p. m. In a preliminary at 7:30 Martel and Morral, semi-final losers will dispute third place.

Kirkpatrick has previously downed Morral, Green Camp and Caledonia while Pleasant has taken the measure of Martel and LaRue.

Larkin-Moran "Go" on WMRN Tonight

Two crack welters who are seeking title opportunities, Tippy Larkin (above) of Garfield, N. J., and Mexico's Nick Moran, tangle in a ten-round return headliner at Madison Square Garden tonight.

When these two met last fall, they fought a terrific battle that had Madison Square Garden in an uproar. At the end of ten blistering rounds, the Garfield Gunner squeezed through with the decision only by virtue of the lead he had gained in the opening stanzas of the fight.

Larkin and the Mexican Marauder represent different schools of pugilism. Crafty Larkin is a master boxer and a sharp, clean puncher. Moran relies mainly on aggressiveness and constant belting.

Enjoy the excitement, blow-by-blow, on Gillette's Cavalcade of Sports over American Broadcasting Co. and WMRN (1490 on your dial) at 10 p. m.

And remember men . . . LOOK sharp! FEEL sharp! BE sharp! Use Gillette Blue Blades with the sharpest edges ever honed!

Special to The Star

LOS ANGELES, March 22.—Kenny Washington, all-time Negro football great, will play this fall for the Los Angeles Rams, defending champions of the National football league. Washington was signed yesterday by General Manager Charles P. (Chile) Walsh after the Rams purchased his contract from the Hollywood Bears of the Pacific coast pro league.

BOUDREAU SEES NO CHANCE FOR TITLE

Predicts N. Y., Boston, Detroit Will Fight It Out.

By The Associated Press

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 22—Dismissing his own Cleveland Indians with a very few words, mainly concerning their lack of punch at the plate, Manager Lou Boudreau predicts that New York, Detroit and Boston will put on a merry scrap for the American league title.

"We won't be in this race," he said. "We'll have good pitching but you've got to have hitting to go with it. The three top clubs have both, and that includes the Yanks."

In Bobby Feller, Allie Reynolds, Steve Gromek and Charley Edwards, three Indians possess a formidable man pitching staff probably second to none in the game and Boudreau himself they still have a fine shortstop who hits a ton but out after that they taper off considerably.

George Case, obtained during the winter in a swap that sent Jeff Heath to Washington, is the team's new left fielder. He batted .294 for the Senators last year. The two other outfield jobs will be divided up among such batters as Felix Mackiewicz, Jim Seerey and Clarence "Soup" Campbell, with a youngster named Gene Woodling being given a good chance to break at center.

Busy Bob Feller Keeps Tab on Sluggers

Rapid Robert Not Scared of Batters, but Keeps Large Files on Weaknesses.

By CHIP ROYAL
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

CLEARWATER, Fla. — Thanks Manager Lou Boudreau of the Indians, your agent had conference the other day on the bench with Bobby during an exhibition game. Robert is quite a guy. Full of good ideas. But he is worried about "enough paper" to list all the information about American league hitters.

Collects Box Scores

Bob always keeps a record of every hitter he opposes. He never misses a box score of a regular league game. The first thing he does when he goes into town is get a newspaper and study what opposing batters have been doing. Don't get the idea that Feller is afraid of any hitter. Why, he's even talking about winning 25 or 30 games this year!

"I'll need several notebooks to keep up with the hitters this year," smiles Bobby in his Iowan way. "There will be plenty of them. But, I think the pitchers coming back will have an edge over the batters.

BOB FELLER
"Williams Hits Anything"

"All we have to do is get the feel of the ball again. The hitters must catch up their timing, get the proper coordination at the plate."

Feller studies every hitter as if he were going to pitch against him for the world's championship.

"You know I can't find out enough about hitters," admits Bob. "Take Ted Williams, for instance. I've had a lot of good luck against him but the guy is uncanny; he can hit almost any kind of a ball."

Sold on School

The fireballer also likes to talk about the baseball school he ran this winter. He plans one every year.

"I got a big kick out of the kids. Some of them are going to make good ball players, too. At least 70 were signed by major league clubs.

"Boy, it's great to be back in this game again. I missed it. I want to set a few pitching records before I get through and time's awasting.

"Speaking of pitching, we're going to have quite a mound staff on the Indians this year. If we can get some hitting, we'll have a lot of fun with the Yankees, Red Sox and Tigers."

SECCAIUM PARK BILLS FIELD TRIAL SUNDAY

Crawford Co. Coon Hunters to Sponsor Event.

Special to The Star

GALION, March 22—The Crawford County Coon Hunters will hold their annual Spring Field Trial at Seccaium Park, Sunday, March 24, starting at noon and lasting through the day.

The association had plans with the county fair board and the county commissioners to hold the trial, at the Bucyrus Fair Grounds but due to the government's failure to release the grounds they were forced to change the location. Seccaium Park has ample shelter in case of bad weather, and the trial will be run, regardless of the weather.

The Crawford County Coon Hunters association carried on through the war, though handicapped, and did a good job of keeping the woods and fields stocked with game. In the past year the association released 142 trapped wild coon and 50 adult pheasants, which places them high among the larger organizations of the state.

Officers of the association promise a large entry of dogs and some of the best winners in the country will compete. Lunch and refreshments will be served on the grounds. Any profits derived from these chases are used solely for feeding and restocking purposes.

Women and children will be admitted free.

The second of three chases for 1946, will be held Sunday, June 2, at the Otto Pfeifer farm one-half mile south of Galion.

Sunday, March 31, the Richland County association will hold a trial at the G.B.U. park, north of Mansfield.

Basketball is in its 41st season at Notre Dame.

Unbeaten Waynesburg To Test Worthington's Stout Defense

By HAROLD HARRISON
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, O., March 22—An undefeated team always is the marked outfit in any tournament and that's the load Waynesburg's Mohawks carry tonight when they clash with Worthington's Cardinals in the second game of the finals in the Class "B" Ohio high school basketball tournament at Springfield. (Worthington is the sole remaining team from the Central district, which includes Marion county, in the state race.)

The Mohawks have won 26 games. They never were pressed seriously until they got into district tournament play. Since then, they have shown the ability to win the close ones.

In the latter department the Mohawks won't have a thing on Worthington. The Cardinals had only one and two-point margins in winning their two regional games last week.

Not Quite So Good

Worthington's record doesn't quite match that of Waynesburg, but it still contains quite an imposing array of figures. The Cardinals have won 24 of 27 games and only two of the defeats were by Class "B" schools.

On their records, it appears tonight's tilt will be a battle between a high scoring offense and a rugged defense. Waynesburg has averaged a fraction under 53 points a game. Worthington, stressing defense and sharp team play, has played only one game in which its opponent tallied more than 36 points. That was the Cardinals' 31 to 43 decision over Westerville in the regular season.

This is the last of a series of stories on the teams which will compete in the final Ohio high school basketball tournaments tonight and tomorrow).

Worthington has a slight height advantage over the Mohawks with three of the Cardinal regulars standing six feet tall of more.

Waynesburg has only one six-footer in its usual starting lineup.

Frequent Contender

Waynesburg has been one of the state's most frequent contenders in the final Class "B" tournament but the Mohawks, like all others remaining in this year's event, still haven't won a state title.

This is Waynesburg's fifth appearance in the final tournament and it is the third time the Mohawks have proceeded as far as the round of four.

Worthinton has made only one previous trip to the state finals. That was two years ago when the Cardinals lost their opener in the four-team final meet to Lima St. John.

NEW YORK, March 22 — Most of the basketball coaches who have gathered here for their first big convention since before the war figure they're too busy this year getting the college game rolling again to tinker with the rules....But that doesn't keep them from advancing individual ideas....There's the three-circle plan for jump balls, for instance, and Oregon's Howard Hobson still is strong for widening the free-throw lane to loosen up the game under the basket and minimize the effect of tall players ....Hobby bravely offers this proposal despite the fact he has a 6-foot-8 freshman center.

FATHER, SON TO DIE TOGETHER. William Heincy, left, 45, and his father, Philip H. Heincy, 72, will be hanged together March 29 at Iowa's Fort Madison penitentiary. The two were convicted of the robbery-murder of Robert W. Raebel, an Okoboji lake resort operator, Dec. 18, 1944. The double hanging of a father and son for a joint crime will be the first execution of its kind in Iowa, according to Warden Percy Lainson.

Blind Man Shoots Ex-Mother-in-Law in Divorce Fracas

By The Associated Press

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 22—O. T. Guthrie, 42, blind second hand store proprietor, fatally shot his former mother-in-law while his divorced wife, also blind, stood helplessly by, then called the police station to report the shooting, Assistant County Attorney George Lipe said today. Guthrie is being held without charge in the city jail.

Lipe said Guthrie told him and Coroner Evert Crismore that he blamed his mother-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Hinds, 60, for his marital troubles, which recently ended in divorce, and that he had gone to his former wife's home to get $800 he said she owed him for opening a soft drink stand for her in the state capitol building. The couple was married a year ago.

"My mother-in-law was sitting beside the divan I was on," Lipe quoted Guthrie as saying: "I guess I flew into a fit. I wheeled around until the pistol touched her and fired." Mrs. Hinds died instantly.

Mrs. Guthrie, who still operates the capitol soft drink stand, gave a similar account of the shooting, Lipe said, quoting her as saying: "He told mother that she had interfered in our marriage, but mother insisted that she had done nothing. I heard a shot in the room and I ran to where mother was. I could feel blood on her shoulder. I screamed and ran out the door."

Lipe said police arrested Guthrie at the home after the blind man's call to police.

STOCKS SHOW SOME STRENGTH ON STREET

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 22 — Assorted stocks exhibited a fair amount of strength in today's market although early gains running to around 5 points failed to hold any many leaders backed into the loss column.

Air transports and department stores came to the fore after a moderately active opening.

American Airlines started late on a 2,500-share block, up 4¼ on the share division proposal, but eventually cut the upturn substantially. Gimbel Bros. jumped 3 on an initial 1,200-share sale. Ahead at intervals were Pan American Airways, Eastern Air Lines, Du Pont, Goodrich, Douglas Aircraft and J. I. Case.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

"Oh, Katharine, you angel!" I said, as the full implication of her offer to take care of Faith during the luncheon Olga was giving for all of us came to me.

I had not had time to realize the complications which Faith's presence at the luncheon might cause. Conditions promised to be strained enough, with the announcement of Olga's betrothal to Georges and her exhibition of the heirloom ring presented by every king of Trees to his bride, without the possibility of Faith's prattling questions and comments about it.

Relief Shadowed

Then my relief was suddenly shadowed.

"I don't know whether or not that can be managed," I said.

"Why not?" she queried.

"Well," I said slowly, "you know Faith, and you know Dicky."

"I never knew the moment when you couldn't manage either of them," she said crisply.

"And I could now," I retorted, "if Dicky weren't in a wheel chair and hadn't been separated from Faith for so long."

"I ought to be kicked," she said, "for forgetting. Of course, if Faith takes a notion that the luncheon is something very special, and she wants to go with her daddy, it's going to be awfully hard — virtually impossible — for Dicky to refuse her. Let me think."

She put her hand over her eyes —a characteristic gesture with her —and when she took it away her eyes were dancing.

"I think I have a foolproof scheme," she said, "but I'm not going to spill it to you yet. You go over now and reassure Dicky about his mother, and plan for your attendance at the luncheon. I'm willing to bet that you won't be able to drag Faith to that luncheon with wild horses."

Won't Take Wager

"I certainly am not going to take that wager," I said, smiling as I turned to go.

"Wise Lady!" she commented. "Oh, just one second! About that secret of the photographs which you were afraid Faith was going to spill."

I turned with alacrity.

"Yes?" I asked, with a little catch of the breath for her answer meant much to me.

"You may put that worry out of your mind for good," she said. "I'm sure I can guarantee that Faith never will mention the word again, even in her sleep."

"If you had lived in Salem two hundred years ago, you certainly would have been hanged," I told her with smiling thankfulness. "I don't know how you did it, or how I ever can thank you."

"Don't try," she said, and gave me a playful push in the direction of my own apartment.

Dicky and Mary Expectant

Then she turned back to her patient, and I to my own suite where I found Dicky and Mary looking expectantly at me as I came into the room.

"Mother is all right," I said quickly, speaking first the words both so wanted to hear. "She is asleep, and Katherine doesn't want her to waken until she is thoroughly rested."

"Who is going to watch her?" Mary asked.

"Katharine herself," I told her. "She will not hear of anyone else taking over the job, although she says Mother is not ill enough to need professional care. And she coyly admitted that she and Jack would welcome the chance to escape the formal luncheon. But don't ever breathe a word of that to Olga."

"The secret will be safe with me," Mary promised.

"Then come with me into the bedroom," I told her, "and I'll tell you something you will have to know before you go up to your father-in-law's apartment."

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDENSEN, M.D.

Penicillin Ointment

Penicillin has proved to be such a wonderworker against serious general infections that everyone will be glad when it can be added to the family medicine chest as a weapon against infected cuts, burns, and other skin disorders.

Penicillin might be compared to a human genius, marvelous in his own line, but temperamental and unstable, and requiring special handling. The problem has always been to get it to "stay put" in an easily applied substance.

Now, Drs. Philip Graey and Harvey D. Hebb of Canada report that penicillin can be successfully added to a cream or to an ointment and thus, spread directly on infected skin to hasten its cure.

These physicians made up various creams and ointments, some of lanolin, some of wax, some of stearic acid, some of mineral oil, sterilized them and then added penicillin. In a number of the preparations, the penicillin seemed to retain its potency or power to heal, for two or three weeks when stored at cold temperatures.

None of the preparations appeared sufficiently stable to permit manufacturing large quantities at a time. In other words, it would appear advisable, if a penicillin cream or ointment is to be used, that it be made up fresh and used promptly.

Care must also be taken to keep penicillin creams and ointments sterile, since molds may get into them and destroy the penicillin. This is done by not putting anything which is not sterile into the jar containing the penicillin preparation.

When penicillin cream was spread on infected burns, it was found that it began to lose its potency after about 48 hours. Hence, a daily change of dressings would appear necessary, at the least, every two days.

In impetigo, a skin disease, and in infections of the beard, good results were obtained.

Penicillin cream was also used for treating sinus infections. In doing this, the doctors injected a small amount of the penicillin cream into the affected sinus every two or three days. Before each injection the cream remaining from the previous treatment was washed out with salt water.

In a few cases, a skin rash occurred on the area where the penicillin was applied. Since it would appear that these patients were sensitive either of the penicillin or something in the cream base, the chances for development of this skin irritation should be borne in mind whenever a penicillin cream is to be used for ten days or longer.

Penicillin in the home medicine cabinet is still in the future but it can be stated that doctors are overlooking no chance to make full use of the great new healing drug. As time goes on, it is possible that new methods of applying it will be learned, and that new uses for the methods we now have will be discovered.

In Memory Of

★Robert Harry Cowell, who passed away March 22, 1945.

His smiling face and pleasant way
Are a pleasure to recall,
He had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all.

Some day we know not when,
To clasp his hand in the better land,
Never to part again.

Sadly missed by Father, Mother,
Brothers and Sister.

Where Good Food and Good People Meet

AFTER FOUR YEARS, MOTHER LETS BOYS BE BOYS. A visit to the barber and a change of clothes, and George and Michael Roman, four-year-old Chicago twins, change from "girls" to boys. "Spare-Time" Inventor Says 7½-Cent Coin Would Save Subway Riders Millions

By ARLENE WOLF
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK—If mousetraps are priced at two for 15 cents, and you want only one, you pay eight cents for it.

If your local transit system charges 15 cents for two rides, you have to buy tokens. The tokens get lost, mixed up with the rest of your change, and end up in slot machines by mistake.

Dr. J. Rice Gibbs, New York dentist has put his teeth into this odd change problem and come up with an idea for a new coin worth seven and a half cents. Gibbs, an elderly genial spare-time inventor, was inspired specifically because of New York's current subway fare dispute.

The fare is five cents. There's a movement to raise it to make up an operating deficit. Seven and a half cents per ride would do the trick, Gibbs believes, and would save the subway riders some $60,000,000 a year which they would pay out if the fare were raised to ten cents.

The proposed coin would be just between a nickel and a quarter in size. On one side, the dentist proposes a reproduction of AP photographer Joe Rosenthal's famous Iwo Jima picture. The reverse side would bear the figure 7½ in large numerals — large enough for blind persons to feel, Gibbs points out.

Dr. Gibbs has written to the congressional committee on banking and currency about his idea, which if adopted, would give the U. S. its first seven and a half cent coin. Back in 1792, there was a half-cent coin minted, and in the latter 1860's there was a two-cent bronze coin.

At the moment the dentist is devoting his spare time to pulling for adoption of the new coin. Its possibilities are varied, he thinks. It might even be used for tips.

Practicable airborne television, as developed for wartime use and given its first public demonstration at Washington yesterday, is going to be a big help in peace time, activities, the prognosticators say.

Among other things they see it as paving the way for on-the-scene telecasting from cars, boats and aircraft of such happenings as fires, floods and the like. Also it should be useful in aircraft navigation, in police traffic control, in exploration or even for under-sea observation.

David Sarnoff, president of RCA, whose company cooperated with the Navy department in the demonstration and in the research that went into the development of the equipment, forecast even the day of a "walkie-lookie." He said a reporter might use it to cover events the same as he does now with a news camera.

The "walkie-lookie" would be a light-weight portable television camera taking pictures at the scene and flashing them back to a central point for reproduction. It would be an adaptation from the compact "suitcase" type airplane apparatus, which comprised two systems operating on different frequency bands and under different picture standards.

Spokesmen for NBC, which also helped in the development, said it was their intention to use similar equipment in connection with remote pickups for the network's New York station WNBT.

The demonstration indicated how much progress has been made in the way of flying television. It recalled an earlier prewar trial over New York City with much cruder and more clumsy apparatus when city street scenes were televised from a plane for the first time.

Post-War Activities of Ex-GI's Show Wartime Reading Habits

By WILLA MARTIN
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK, March 22—Down in a Virginia hamlet, three ex-soldiers have established a lending library where no library existed before.

In El Paso, Texas, Colonel Bob Ely, back from Europe where he was an Army specialist in education and information, has started a book store. Before he became a soldier, Colonel Ely, an insurance salesman, had thought no more of book stores than he had of splitting the atom.

Both of these incidents reflect the fact that, during the war, servicemen received 6,000,000 books and magazines a month from the special services division. Many men acquired the habit of reading for amusement and instruction, though they previously might have viewed the printed word as a nuisance.

These readers now are coming home to roost and it is a moment of triumph for Ray Trautman, a Lexington, Ky., chap who learned that soldiers could read and did something about it.

Colonel Trautman built the army's wartime library service into a great publishing business by the simple process of giving the men what they wanted.

"Of course there were men who liked only westerns and others who cared for Thomas Mann," he says. "But it was more common for a serviceman to like both westerns and Thomas Mann. In libraries and reading rooms men back from the service now are asking for authors and magazines they never had heard of before."

Some of the men got used to reading magazines without ads and now resent the intrusion of advertisements. Others who looked at or read women's magazines sent abroad for the use of Wacs are asking unabashed for Vogue and Harper's Bazaar and Mademoiselle in their home town libraries.

Polls disclosed that fewer than half of the servicemen had had previous access to a library and only 25 per cent to a book store.

Colonel Trautman has no patience with people who think the average soldier was interested only in comics:

"Give any one any thing to read—trash or near-trash—and he'll move up to westerns, mysteries, fiction, essays—until he has hit his average. The secret of having an educated people is thorough exposure."

Colonel Trautman had learned something of the reading habits of America while affiliated with the Enoch Pratt library in Baltimore. Now a civilian on reserve, Trautman has become vice-president of Omnibook, where he is getting a chance to put into practice the things he learned in journeys he made to the fighting fronts.

Because of new interest in reading created by wartime leisure, the Army is adding new libraries in the Pacific and is looking for 120 more librarians (They make $3,000 a year, get free passage to their stations.)

"Mass production, America's unique talent, is making our army of occupation one of the most read—if not the best read—in the world," says Trautman.

Servicemen overseas, especially those in hospitals, are keenly interested in world events, from sports to elections. Your $20 contribution to the Red Cross fund campaign is enough to buy and deliver a radio overseas where it will help raise the spirits of many a homesick soldier and sailor.

Pfc. Clarence S. Stoner received his discharge from the service March 16 following four years service with one year of that time overseas. Before returning to the States, he was stationed in Nuremberg, Germany. He also served in England, France and Belgium. Before entering the service, he was engaged in farming. A brother, Pfc. John W. Stoner, is stationed in Fusan, Korea, with a military police company. He entered the service March 31, 1943 and has been overseas six months. Both are sons of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Stoner of near Cardington.

A sergeant in the Army engineers aviation corps, where he served as secretary for his colonel and major, he received his discharge from service last December. Prior to going to Cairo he was stationed at Saudi, Arabia.

Vandals Run Wild in Marysville School

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, March 22—Burlars last night stole $141.82 in school lunch money from the office of Supt. H. W. Carr in senior high school, did considerable damage in that office and a connected inner office used for school board meetings, and topped off the evening by eating a lunch of cooked beans and drinking three bottles of milk in the school cafeteria.

While in the building the intruders pulled loose the wire on the public address system "mike", and also pulled the plug on the extension cord. For some reason they took time out to smash the "pigeon hole" compartments in the superintendent's desk.

Hoover Tackling Harder Job New Than Last Time

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP World Traveler

PARIS, March 22—Former [illegible] Herbert Hoover is [illegible] investigation of the [illegible] food shortage without [illegible] as to the gravity [illegible] or of the dangers [illegible] when men's minds [illegible] by hunger.

His [illegible] of the great [illegible] situation was quite [illegible] private conversation [illegible] with him on the eve [illegible] for Rome, where [illegible] his study. His [illegible]

DewittMackenzie

[illegible] It was easy to [illegible] he was [illegible] from [illegible] encyclopaedic knowledge [illegible] acquired while food re-[illegible] administrator for Europe at [illegible] end of the last war. I saw a [illegible] deal of him at that time as [illegible] Associated Press correspondent.

His present problem makes the [illegible] of old Mother Hubbard [illegible] like the plenty of a Sunday [illegible] picnic. It's estimated that [illegible] are some 500,000,000 people [illegible] in various parts of the [illegible] and the experts tell us [illegible] only enough food for [illegible]-quarters of them. We don't [illegible] to draw diagrams to emphasize the grimness of that situation. It means that a lot of people [illegible] going to die of hunger before [illegible] production can catch up [illegible] the shortage.

The position isn't the same now as it was after the last war, when Mr. Hoover made himself famous as Europe's provisioner. Then the world had prepared for the food shortage which followed the first global conflict and the contingency could be met. But now there just isn't the food—and there won't be anything like enough food until after the harvests several months hence. No wonder Mr. Hoover says the next four months are the crucial ones.

He points out that the immediate relief must came from North and South America. That's where the grain and other foodstuffs are. This means that Canada, the United States and the Argentine have to play Atlas to the world for a third of a year.

A third of a year—and what tragedy can develop in that time if the food emergency isn't met. Mr. Hoover will find (and probably foresees it already) that the passions of Europe are being swayed by hunger. Folk in the hard-hit areas are reaching willy-nilly for new political nostrums in the hope that they will bring relief.

Political Chaos

Thus we have political chaos in various of the liberated countries, and in the conquered states the labors of the occupation authorities are being rendered increasingly difficult because of public bitterness over short rations. The reform and rehabilitation of Europe are in the melting-pot—and the fire isn't doing so well.

Mr. Hoover points out that the situation calls for sacrifices by the haves for the have-nots. Four months, of course, won't replenish the world's cupboard, but it will get by its most pressing emergency.

There come into my minds the lines of some great and good man who said that "if everybody cares enough and everybody shares enough, everybody, will have enough."

Four Wives Fine, but Not for Me, Says Hakim

By HAL BOYLE
AP News Features Writer

CAIRO, March 22—Tewfik El Hakim is the "George Bernard Shaw" of the middle east. He is a precise middle-aged man with a small mustache and French mannerisms picked up in Paris, where he was educated.

He even wears a maroon beret instead of the conventional tall red tarboosh. He is perhaps the most disliked man in Egypt—by modern Egyptian women, because of his theory that every man should have four wives.

Hal Boyle

Modern Moslem women feel they are having a hard enough time getting rid of centuries-old Arab religious restrictions on their sex without Tewfik El Hakim and his campaign for polygamy. And what infuriates them more is that Hakim himself, while advocating four wives for every other man in the world, declines to take even one unto himself. He poses as a confirmed "woman hater."

More Comfortable

"But I think every man who wants them is entitled to four wives," he says. "It is more comfortable for them and for him.

"Five wives can do so much more for a man than one. He needs one, for example, for companionship; another for cooking; still another to take out and show off in company and a fourth one for romance.

"No one woman can do all these things, an automobile can't march without four wheels and a man with only one wife is like a man with only one tire.

"I can see how it might be possible for man to get along with as few as two wives—but that is the kind of a man who would start a long journey on a bicycle."

The most educated women here bridle at the very mention of Hakim's theory, but when I asked one spinster lady how she would like being married to a man with four wives, she merely replied, practically:

"Well, it would be better than nothing."

High-paid Writer

Hakim is one of the highest paid writers between Casablanca and Calcutta. He writes for "Akhbar Elyom," a weekly news magazine circulated throughout the middle east. He and his publisher, Mustapha Amin Youssef, are engaged in a perennial financial debate.

"He gets 50 cents a word and we are glad he doesn't stutter," said Youssef. "He always suspects us of not counting the number of words in his articles correctly, but he is too lazy to do it himself.

"So now he takes his article into the cable office and pretends he is going to send it to London. After they have counted the words, he tells them he has changed his mind."

Navy Support Grows Despite Truman View

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 22 — The congressional drive to give the navy the extra $2,100,000,000 it wants gained momentum today despite a presidential rap at the sea arm.

Lawmakers pledged a renewed battle for the full $4,325,000,000 described by Adm. Chester W. Nimitz as the minimum sum the Navy needs to maintain a strong fleet.

The budget bureau slashed that figure to $4,225,000,000 and Nimitz, chief of naval operations, and other top admirals have since told a house naval committee inquiry that this would require drastic retrenchments in fighting ships, manpower and research.

President Truman told his news conference yesterday that the statement by the Navy was not in line with the facts.

Officers' Uniforms Will Be Like GI's by June 30, 1948

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 22 — Officers' uniforms are on their way out of the Army.

By June 30, 1948, the highest colonels and the lowest privates will be garbed in identical fashion, except for insignia.

The war department's order decreeing this comes at a time when criticism is still being heard from ex-servicemen about the so-called "officer caste system" and its privileges.

The first Capitol Hill comment was all for the change.

Chairman May (D-Ky) of the house military committee told reporters "it looks like the Army is beginning to recognize the demand for democratic practices. This should encourage larger volunteer enlistments."

An ex-GI, Rep. Melvin Price (D-Ill) said: "It sounds good to me. I think it will help enlistments and will do away with some of the bad feeling that exists between officers and men."

There has been no hint yet that the Navy contemplates a similar move.

The war department's decision was not considered radical by old Army men who pointed out that, except for insignia, there was no difference in uniforms worn by officers and enlisted men in World War I.

Under the new order, issued last night, all personnel will wear battle jackets and trousers of the same olive drab shade now used in enlisted men's clothing. For summer and tropical wear, the duty uniform for all ranks will continue to be the familiar khaki, with the addition of a battle jacket in tropical worsted material.

Beulah of Radio Fame Falls Dead at Home

By The Associated Press

Hurt complained of feeling ill Thursday morning and visited a doctor and then drove to his home, where he became suddenly worse. Mrs. Hurt was helping her husband to his bed when he died.

Hurt, who had been in vaudeville until 1930, when he went into radio, made his debut as the giggling Negro maid on the Fibber McGee show in January, 1944, and was an immediate hit. Last June, Hurt was made the star of his Sunday afternoon radio program.

Hurt has one adopted son, Raymond, who now is in Puerto Rico.

Without Any Sugar-Coating

DRAFT DIRECTOR HERSHEY'S proposal for indefinite extension of the selective service act, with the service of future inductees limited to 12 months, is universal military training without any sugar-coating.

It would bring about the same result, but with one important difference. Under the proposed universal training law, trainees would belong to a separate training organization and could not be sent to war without congressional authorization. Under the selective service act, inductees automatically are members of the regular armed forces of the United States.

In a roundabout way, Gen. Hershey's proposal may force the military preparedness issue to a decision. If his proposal is rejected, or if it leads to no compromise for reversing the trend away from mobilization, the principle of youth training for national security will have been turned down. If the proposal were to be accepted, or if it were to bring about a compromise honoring the principle of youth training, the stage would be set for ultimate development of universal military training as a national policy.

Congress, reluctant to close with that issue, now has been invited to settle it under another name—indefinite extension of the draft.

Henry's Party Line

HENRY WALLACE'S idea for purging congressmen who vote their convictions instead of their party affiliation is a desperate dig at the coalition of southern Democrats and Republicans in the house of representatives.

The coalition works like this: whenever Republicans vote in full strength, as they do more often than Democrats, and can attract 26 majority votes to their side, they are in position to control the action of the house. On controversial issues recently, this coalition of conviction has been more potent than the Democratic majority. The same natural division is emerging in the senate. The party line that was the secret weapon of the New Deal, itself a coalition, ceased to be compulsory when Franklin D. Roosevelt's death put congressmen back on their own resources in reelection contests.

Mr. Wallace's proposal for reinstating it as a matter of compulsion shows more desperation than wisdom, especially in the light of his own position as a renegade Republican who decided to join the New Deal because his own party was cramping his style.

The Fact That Remains

THE information given Pearl Harbor investigators by the former secretary of war, Henry L. Stimson, adds to evidence already gathered showing that Washington was more aware of the imminence of war with Japan than the American people, just before Dec. 7, 1941.

Because of the proof he can show of this awareness, Mr. Stimson seems to conclude that whatever the public lacked in information was caused by its failure to interpret properly what it was being told by public officials and by newspapers. This is a curious line of reasoning, but a sound one, nevertheless, because something of the sort actually happened.

A review of the files of newspapers before the Pearl Harbor attack reveals that every newspaper carrying a comprehensive news report did tell that war with Japan was imminent. This is similarly true of reports about Europe before 1939. By hindsight, one wonders how Americans could have been so blind as to fail to see what was obvious.

Yet they did. Many newspapermen—by hindsight—have wondered about this. Many have reached this conclusion: that in such momentous matters as war the public naturally and properly depends on official information. The press does not make decisions. It only reports decisions. The fact that remains after everything else has been said about the attack that surprised the war department, navy department and the American public at Pearl Harbor is that no statement about war being either inevitable or imminent was issued from the White House, the only place that counted. That is of small importance now, except as it helps to undo the absurd credo that those who were taken by surprise somehow were to blame for not knowing what was coming.

DOURLY GENEROUS

A McPherson small boy opened the front door to a Red Cross worker, Vicki reports in the Republican, and invited her in, saying his mother was away but had left a dollar on the mantel for the campaign. The worker and child had a pleasant chat, and just as she was ready to depart the boy asked curiously if she had ever had the mumps. No, she hadn't. "Gee," exclaimed the lad, "I've given you two things today—a dollar bill and, I betcha, the mumps."—Kansas City Times.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Smith Likely To Use Direct Approach Diplomacy.

WASHINGTON, March 22—The condition of foreign affairs is apt to become more deeply involved before it gets better.

The military man, Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, selected by Mr. Truman to go to Russia as ambassador, has now been sent on his way to Moscow, presumably with new instructions on the course of Soviet-American affairs. My guess would be General Smith will enter into the confusing diplomatic fray with a purpose of establishing the usual direct non-political approach. Diplomats seldom say what they mean; military men speak directly. With them it is a question of "what do you want?", "what have you got?" and "what do you propose to do?" The West Point schooling always has taught practical considerations. For these reasons I judge the permanent mission of General Smith represents a fresh effort by this administration to establish some reasonable and practical grounds for future Russian negotiations.

Important

This under-interpreted venture seems to me to be equally as important as the Iran developments which are deeply involved in diplomacy. The filing by the Iran government of a protest against Russia with the United Nations security council in its provisional nature, may have been too napply interpreted in this country. On its face it represented a decision by the Iranian government to stand for its independence. This naturally has raised American hopes that a new stanchion has been built to resist the encroachments Russia has been making upon the basic peace doctrine of the four freedoms.

The wiles of diplomacy are such however, that this conclusion must be hedged. Some underlying doubts in the situation can be found upon analysis of the strength of the stanch-on.

In the first place, the new premier of the Iranian government was established after the Soviets had protested the resistance policy of the former government head. The protest of his minister here to UNO was made after his recent visit to Stalin out of which many rumors have grown.

One story accredited to British circles is that the premier was told by Stalin not only that an appeal to UNO would be considered an unfriendly act—as announced—but his government would be replaced if he tried it. On the other hand an unaccredited rumor here supposes that the protest will not be pressed before UNO as it occupies only a status on the provisional agenda of the council—that is, it may not be taken up. Regardless of rumors or reports on either side, the status of the protest, of course, is provisional. It can be taken up by a vote of 7 members but a veto by Russia would shelve it.

Encouraging

With matters in this involved diplomatic state, the dispatch of General Smith represents the most encouraging development, and a firmer one.

As nearly as I can judge, few authorities are being swayed by the appeasement efforts such as represented most conspicuously by the speech of Senator Pepper. Big Three gatherings were important from a publicity standpoint and were necessary when the foundations of peace had not been laid. But now that the agreements have been established, the problem is to put them into effect.

My latest information suggests Russia has nothing of a military nature which we need fear. Specifically she does not have the atom bomb or early prospects of getting it. The bomb formula is so deeply covered by arrangements for secrecy made during the war, that it may be assumed to be safe.

The need for appeasement in the face of Russia's threatening diplomatic position is therefore not apparent.

GI's Good Students

By The Associated Press

MINNEAPOLIS—Former servicemen at the University of Minnesota are taking their schooling in a serious vein.

Out of 1,594 veterans enrolled for the fall quarter, only six dropped out because of poor scholarship, says Curtis E. Avery, director of the Bureau of Veterans affairs; midway in the winter quarter, for which 6,000 enrolled, not one had left school for that reason.

"Army men and women coming back to civilian life display a strength of purpose and seriousness very different from that of students in the prewar years," said Prof. Howard P. Longstaff, head of the psychology department.

"Overseas Army service is making 'citizens of the world' out of them."

Lily Growth Speeded

BELTSVILLE, Md.—Men have been giving nature a boost in the growing of Easter lilies here and they promise a brighter future for commercial growers of the flower. Scientists in the Beltsville U. S. Plant Industries station, through special warm-water and storage processes, said they had been able to force the lily bulbs so that they begin sprouting in nine days instead of the usual six to ten weeks.

Gets Radar Guide

BALTIMORE — Navigation in this city made its first significant steps towards utilization of the electronic developments of the war recently with installation of the first major radar on the "City of Richmond," Baltimore-Norfolk night boat.

Westinghouse Electric Corporation designers of the equipment said that it would give the packet navigational and anti-collision protection over a range of 100 yards to 32 miles. First tests on the 185-mile 'Old Bay' Line run were to be made this week. If successful, the line planned further installations.

The Japanese invented the folding fan in the seventh century.

Georgia's Youth Taking Charge

THAT youth is replacing age in the administration of Georgia's municipal affairs was indicated recently by a survey which advanced two mayors and one city manager for the distinction of being the country's youngest civic officials.

Increasing popularity of veterans as political "timber" in the state was also indicated.

Chatsworth claims a double record in the election of 24-year-old William Cast Groves, a war veteran, as mayor while. Miss Gladys Irene Robinson, 17, a recent high school graduate, is the community's city clerk.

The town's election in January took the youngest-mayor honors from Douglasville, which had previously elected a 27-year-old mayor, while Moultrie claims the honor of having the youngest city manager for a community its size in the appointment of William F. Ladson, 30, a former Lt. Colonel in the army engineer corps.

Chatworth's young mayor had served 13 months in Australia and New Guinea, and before his election had driven a taxi for several months in his home town. He won by a plurality of 16 votes on a three-candidate ticket and beat the incumbent by 43 votes.

Explaining that his victory "wasn't hard at all," Groves said he had campaigned by simply letting "the other fellows do the talking and I did the handshaking. That I think, is pretty good political strategy."

Groves said he agreed with Douglasville's 27-year-old Mayor Harold T. Mozley, Sr., on the point that "we've got to get this country out of the rut and the only way we can do it is to put young men in political office. We must have less talk and more action."

City Manager Ladson, of Moultrie, is to direct the city's post-war expansion program and under the city commission form of government will direct the expenditure of a $435,000 budget. Members of the city council who selected him from more than a dozen applicants said they had not been influenced by the fact that he was "a home town boy," but largely because of the capacity for leadership he had shown while he was in the Army.

It's Wonderful Experience

By Jack Stinnett

AFTER taxes, the chief executive of the United States gets about $40,000 a year.

Members of congress get a net of less than $8,500. There's no doubt about government salaries being too low to attract topnotch interest.

Robert Ramspeck, former representative from Georgia and one of the country's outstanding authorities on civil service recently explained in a magazine article why he couldn't afford to continue in congress. He is thoroughly convincing, but the natural question arises: what would he have been doing today if he hadn't come to congress in the first place?

The same question could be asked in scores of cases. Leon Henderson was an obscure teacher of college economics when he came into the government. Congressional opposition finally drove him out of the job of first OPA director. Financially, it was a big kick upstairs. In radio, lectures and as adviser to industrial firms Henderson has piled up an income that would make college teachers of economics turn green.

The same is true of Thomas "Tommy the Cork" Corcoran. He too was drummed out of government service into the big money brackets.

Byron Price who made one of the war's outstanding government service records as chief of censorship, and Donald M. Nelson, who fought the early battles of war production, have both found the motion picture industry pays off much better.

Stephen Early's desire to get out of his job as press representative for President Roosevelt dated back several years before his chief's death. He stayed long enough to see President Truman through his first few months, but after that 'accepted one of many fat offers.

Senator A. B. "Happy" Chandler's financial step-up to baseball czar; the late Jack Nichols' resignation as a member of congress from Oklahoma to become an international airlines executive; and the late Harry Hopkins' jump from the White House staff to a far better paying job in the garment industry are additional examples.

Can Berlin Be Rebuilt?

WOMEN'S BUCKET BRIGADE clearing away rubble in Berlin.

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER

BERLIN—Is Berlin finished or should it attempt to stage a comeback from the bomb craters and ruins, from unemployment and despair?

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt was apparently visibly impressed with the determination of the Berliners to have their once proud city rise modestly again from ashes and debris. She expressed surprise at the "tenacity with which people cling to their native city," during her Berlin stay in February.

Jakob Kaiser, chairman of the Christian-Democratic Union and outstanding labor leader, paid a glowing tribute to Berlin as one who hailed from Bavaria and later from the Rhineland. During a meeting of the Federation of Free Trade Unions he asserted that "in Berlin as nowhere else in Germany, life pulsates, things are being done, people are going places."

A City of Paupers, Too

The other side of the picture was presented in an informal chat with correspondents by Col. Frank L. Howley, military governor of the American sector of Greater Berlin.

Berlin is now virtually a city of three million paupers, he pointed out. Though its citizens go through the motions of working, and are often working hard, their labor is necessarily unproductive.

"No matter how fast they pass bricks in the rubble line," he said, "that does not do any good to the Bavarians, for example, who want to supply Berlin with meat."

What makes the recovery of Berlin particularly difficult is, first, that over three million inhabitants have flocked back despite destruction, and second, that of these three million there are 182 women for every man.

What can these three millions, overwhelmingly female do to a living? That in the opinion of Howley and others, is the crux of the whole matter.

Pre-war Berlin was the nerve center of the reich. Like Washington, it furnished employment to hundreds of thousands of government officials. It was one of the greatest industrial centers on the European continent. Whole boroughs lived off its gigantic manufacturing plants. It was the center of the banking system of the reich. It was a haven for tourists.

Governmental machinery has been reduced to a minimum. The city's industry has been thoroughly demoralized. Banks are flourishing throughout the American and British zones, but not in Berlin.

Only Few Tourists

And as to tourists—only a few morbid curiosity seekers are likely to come in the ensuing years, and will soon depart again for want of accommodations.

The battered capital is making a determined effort to recover as a river port. About 3,500 river barges used to ply in the waters surrounding Berlin. Many of these were destroyed. But one-tenth, or 350, have already been conditioned again.

Meanwhile the rest of the reich and the Allies must somehow feed the vast city.

Deaths Exceed Births Sevenfold in Berlin

BERLIN—Deaths are exceeding births in Berlin to an alarming degree, in the opinion of Prof. Paul Vogeler, city commissioner for communicable diseases.

"Against 12,600 deaths during December," he said, "there were only 1,763 births. In other words, while 48.4 inhabitants per thousand died only 6.7 children per thousand were born. In previous months the ratio was similarly unfavorable."

"The city is losing 350 inhabitants daily who are not replaced."

Pass the Salt

By Truman Twill

It will be a miracle if the American tradition of good eating survives what is happening to it in this era of rationing, price inflation, diet artistry, ignorance, bureaucracy, man-made shortages and sloppy cooking.

Eating for the masses has become a stale routine of keeping body and soul together, unrelieved by the feasts that used to make eating one of the prime pleasures of being an American. Depending on which way the wind is blowing, the people who presume the right to take charge of all human affairs tell us we are eating too much or too little—but when the crops are counted there is always the same net loss for the ancient and honorable custom of satisfying the appetite.

This is not something peculiar to any one country. It is the progressive impoverishment of humanity by too much bickering and too much arming. There is less and less wealth to share and more and more poverty, so we are sharing the poverty. The Hottentots are going to get a glass of milk for their own good, but Americans will get no cream. Cream is old-fashioned. A symptom of the backward days when Americans fed milk to the livestock and used cream themselves.

Those were the days when doctors took it for granted a patient could get enough to eat, unless he lacked the wherewithal to buy it. It was to be a couple of wars and a conflict of ideologies before doctors begin to mutter about vitamin deficiencies and prescribe drenches of artificial nourishment to make up for what even well-to-do patients weren't getting in the normal routine of eating. The bread line, soup kitchen, subsistence diet, and leafy green vegetable faddists were to come later.

Those were the days when even a common man's table was likely to offer a choice of meat and pubs competed with one another for the best free lunch, the days when politicians could talk about a full dinner pail without blushing and a patriot could feel good about a "groaning board." We are not claiming that good eating has disappeared, but only that good eating is disappearing for the middle classes and is becoming the privilege of a small minority with the money and the right connections—chiefly thugs and politicians.

It may be that the poor now eat more, though that can be questioned in the light of the fact they are up against the same handicaps of shortages and inflation as everybody else. But it is beyond argument that man for man, woman for woman and child for child something grim and terrible is happening to the only nation on earth that could put on a Thanksgiving feast for the gustatory gods 365 days a year if it felt like it—not because food is lacking but because there is a pernicious shortage of the intelligence to use it as nature intended.

Two Financing Plans Drawn for Shovel Co. Stockholders

Stock Exchange and Loan Proposals To Be Submitted at Annual Meeting April 1.

...portant proposals concerning the Marion ... Co. will come before ...olders of the company at a meeting here April 1. ... concern a voluntary exchange of preferred ... for common shares and the ... will be for approval of a ... to permit company management to borrow funds.

The ... plan provides for exchange of up to one-half the outstanding preferred shares for common stock. The number of preferred shares to be offered for preferred shares will be determined at the time the offer to exchange is made, company officials said today.

In a letter to stockholders E. G. ..., of New York City, chairman of the board, points out that arrearages on the preferred stock now amount to ... a share, or a total of $2,... Immediate necessity of ... the company's plant, machinery and equipment to reduce manufacturing costs prevents payment of these arrearages in cash, the letter continues.

Stock Increase Proposed

To provide the common stock for exchange for the preferred shares the stockholders also will be asked to approve an increase in the latter from 100,000 to 400,000.

If this increase is authorized the offer to exchange shares will be made as soon as possible.

In an explanation of the reason for the stock exchange plan, Mr. ...etenbach points out that completion of the plan will enable the company to "face the future with the soundest capital structure it has enjoyed in years. The possibility of rehabilitating our plant, machinery, and equipment and of meeting production demands of the future would be greatly enhanced. The general credit standing of our company should improve with resulting benefits to all stockholders."

Years of Arrearages

The preferred stock dividend arrearages have been accumulating since July 1, 1930. No dividends on this stock has been paid since that date with the exception of $1.75a share paid July 1, 1943.

On the question of borrowings, holders of preferred shares will be asked to vote on a proposed amendment to the articles of incorporation to permit the management to obtain from banks or insurance companies loans maturing in not more than 10 years.

The present preferred stock provisions restricting borrowings were adopted at a time when the company had a funded indebtedness of $3,600,000. This amount has been reduced to a short-term $1,000,000 loan from a bank.

The letter to stockholders points out approval of the proposal will permit the company to convert this loan to a long-term basis at low interest rates and other favorable terms now prevailing.

Would Change Name

Another matter for stockholders' consideration will be a proposal to change the name of the company from the Marion Steam Shovel Co. to the Marion Power Shovel Co. It is pointed out that the word "steam" in the company's name has become obsolete. The word dates back to the beginning of the company when all its machines were powered by steam. Now an occasional machine is so powered, the majority being operated by gasoline, diesel or electric engines and motors.

POSTAL BOOST OKAYED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 22—Legislation to increase the pay of salaried postal employes by $400 a year was approved yesterday by the house postoffice committee. Veterans, Servicemen Alike Share in Aid from Red Cross

In keeping with its budget the Red Cross faces its biggest peacetime job, that of service to the men still in the armed forces and those who only recently turned in their uniforms for civilian clothes.

The wounded and hospitalized must continue to receive Red Cross aid in the form of constructive recreational activity, help in planning the future and assistance in solving many a knotty, personal problem which may retard recovery and depress the spirit. The veteran, returning to civilian life, must receive guidance and advice when needed. This is only one of the many services extended to Marion county veterans and those across the nation, through the annual Red Cross Fund Campaign now being conducted.

The Marion county chapter offers Red Cross services to veterans and their families. It assists with claims, insurance adjustments, disability pensions, job training, medical and psychiatric and followup care for the veteran and his family. The local chapter also gives advice and assistance in educational opportunities available under the servicemen's readjustment act, assists in assembling of data and evidence to support claims. The chapter refers veterans to other agencies equipped to provide specialized assistance. Financial assistance may be given by the chapter on the basis of need.

A veteran home from 2½ years overseas, recently discharged from the Army, contacted the Marion county chapter asking for financial assistance with medical and hospital bills.

While in the service the veteran suffered a broken back and at the time of his discharge he applied for disability pension. He had been home about a month and was unable to obtain employment. He filed for unemployment benefits under the servicemen's readjustment act, but had not yet received payments.

A few days before contacting the chapter, his pre-school age son suffered a fractured leg. Since the veteran had been unable to find employment and had no income he was unable to assume payment of the medical and hospital expenses.

The Red Cross chapter discussed his situation with him and while the veteran is awaiting payment of government benefits, the chapter is assisting him with his doctor and hospital expenses.

More than 80 per cent of Marion county's quota of the national 1946 one-hundred million dollar campaign has been reached. Will you help put it over the top before the next report meeting Tuesday night? Less than $7,000 is needed.

Hidden Camera Trips OPA Man in Bribery

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 22—Photographic evidence obtained with a concealed camera led James N. Seymour, 46, former OPA investigator, to plead guilty to accepting a bribe.

He was sentenced to a year and a day by Federal Judge Leslie Darr.

The photographs showed Seymour being paid $217 by Lester Brown, owner of Brown's Quality Market. Brown reported to the Federal Bureau of Investigation that Seymour had solicited the bribe on the promise that he would overlook OPA ceiling violations. FBI agents then set up the camera and arrested Seymour last November.

Fire at Penitentiary Quickly Extinguished

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 22—Fire broke out today in the third floor woolen mill at Ohio penitentiary but was extinguished quickly, Warden Frank D. Henderson's office reported. Extent of the damage was not available immediately.

The lens of the eye continues to grow in size throughout life.

White Rock Hen Hikes Production, Lays 2 Eggs in 1

This is the story of a hen that laid an egg, in fact two eggs all in one, one inside the other.

The outside egg measured two and seven-sixteenths inches in diameter and three and seven-sixteenths inches in length and contained the usual yolk and white. Inside this egg was a normal sized egg. It was laid by a White Rock hen owned by Mr. and Mrs. Lester Yost of Radnor, route 1. Mr. Yost, employed at the Pollak Steel Co., reports he and Mrs. Yost have a flock of 55 White Rock chickens which often produce double yolked eggs but never one of this kind before.

Mrs. Yost discovered that the jumbo egg was two-in-one when it broke while being cleaned. The sad part of the story is that Mr. Yost says the hen which laid the big egg probably will die.

'SOME' PRICE BOOSTS SEEN BY OPA CHIEF

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 22—Paul A. Porter, OPA administrator, said today there would be "some price increases" as the result of approved wage boosts but predicted that the new wage-price policy would have little or no effect upon rents or on "the average of food prices."

In a speech prepared for a luncheon of the union for democratic action, Porter declared that "as far as the basic economics of our problem is concerned, we can continue to hold the average of prices to a slight increase during the coming year," and added:

"The new wage-price policy will add somewhat to the rate of creeping price increases. Let's not duck this reality. Approved wage increases will lead to some prices which would not have occured under the original wage-price policy. In the majority of American industries, however, prospective earnings are so well above pre-war levels that reasonable wage increases can be negotiated without raising prices.

"It is clear that the new wage-price policy will have no effect on the level of rents. It should have little effect on the average of food prices. And it will have little or no effect upon a variety of miscellaneous living costs."
